

Sensory Processing

A free workshop for Parents of OCTC preschool aged clients:

This workshop will offer information about how children can be impacted by too much or too little sensory stimulation and how this can affect their behaviours.

This workshop may be of interest to you if your child:

- is overly sensitive to everyday sounds or lights
- likes to spin themselves or looks at things from certain angles
- is fussy about the texture of clothes, textures of food or who gets very upset for hygiene routines
- is very clumsy, avoids physical challenges, dislikes or loves swings
- has poor attention or has unexplained tantrums

When : Friday February 23, 2018 at 1:00 – 3:00 pm

Where: OCTC (Main site) , 395 Smyth Road, Ottawa

Registration: Call Carol Stephenson 613-737-0871 ext. 2931 (leave your child's name and your phone number for a call back)
